ELLINGSON IN SHIFT TO LAY CRIME ON BOY

Testimony of Asylum Head Gives Court Big Thrill of The Day

(By Universal Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—"I didn't kill her! Jimmy Lamarr killed her!"

This outburst came from Dorothy Ellingson, 18-year-old confessed matricide, to Dr. Fred Clark, superintendent of the Stockton Insane Asylum, last night, according to his testimony given at the trial today.

Dr. Clark's testimony electrified the court room and the jury and even the defense attorneys. The defense today succeeded in entering the Lamarr story as well as the report of Dr. Clark's examination of the girl, as evidence at the trial.

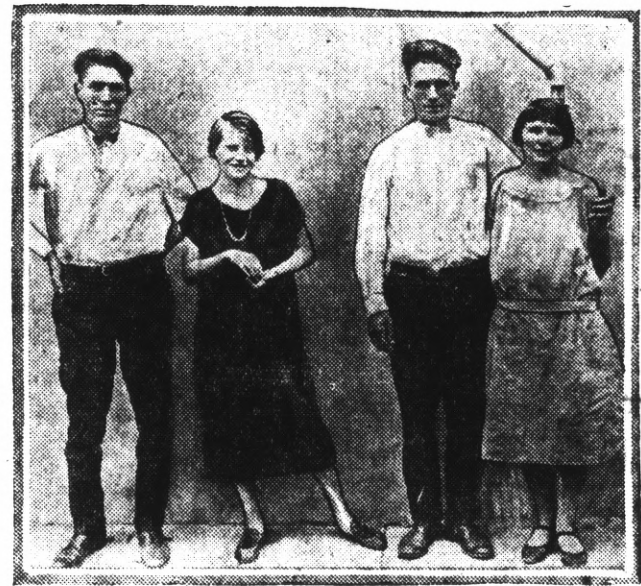

Joseph Ellingson, father of the defendant, today testified of having been a heavy drinker prior to his daughter's birth. He also told of other prenatal influences.

Too Much Garlic, Judge Thinks, So Prescribes Cure

WALNUT CREEK, Aug. 14.—Justice George O. Duncan of Walnut Creek, evidently didn't like the "smell" of Nicholas Ortiz and Manuel Gonzales, so he gave both of them a thirty-day jail sentence.

The two men were hauled into court on a charge of stealing seven sacks of garlic from the W. E. Meese ranch at San Ramon several weeks ago. Petty larceny was the charge preferred against the pair.

TWO SISTERS ELOPE WITH MEN WHO ARE BROTHERS, DESERTING THEIR HUSBANDS WHO ALSO ARE BROTHERS

Above are shown the leading characters in a most unusual elopement case, which yesterday developed new sensations. The two young women, sisters, eloped with the two men, who are brothers, deserting their husbands, who also are brothers, to do so. Each of the women has two children. The four were arrested at Colusa, Cal., where they had fled from their homes in Barstow, Cal., with the four children. Left to right are Cecil Waymire, 30 years old; Mrs. Bessie McClelland, 22; Homer Waymire, 20, and Mrs. Ollie McClelland, 21.

Husbands Ask for Writ for Possession of Their Wives

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 14.—Another attempt to free Bessie and Ollie McClelland, sisters-in-law, in the Barstow love piracy case, was made yesterday by their husbands, John and William.

John and William are brothers. The husbands, who two months ago swore that their wives had been stolen by Homer and Cecil Waymire, yesterday filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus asserting that Justice Kavanaugh erred in permitting the testimony of officers in the preliminary hearing at which the four principals in the elopement were held to answer in higher court. If the writ is granted, Homer and Cecil Waymire will be freed. The husbands agree to this.

The two wives, mere girls in age, and the Waymire brothers, were held on charges of contributing to the delinquency of the McClelland children in Barstow's wholesale "family tree" case. The McClelland wives eloped in a single automobile from Barstow with the Waymires, erst-while "star boarders" at the McClelland homes, it is charged, taking their four children with them.

John and William McClelland testified that they had effected a reconciliation with their wives. "And what about the Waymire brothers?" asked the prosecutor. "I wish the charges would be dismissed against them, too," John McClelland said, and William nodded his assent.

When it appeared that the case against the four principals in the elopement would collapse, officers to whom the defendants, made admissions after the arrest in Colusa were called. The officers testified that the Waymires admitted eloping with the sisters-in-law, and that they lived together in Fresno and Colusa. On this evidence the Waymire brothers and the sister-in-laws were held to answer.

The husbands, John and William were in tears when their wives were returned to the jail, and displayed no enmity toward the Waymires.

CONSPIRATORS GET PEN TERMS

MARTINEZ, Aug. 14.—Angelo Manis and Peter Chrestopoulos, confessed conspirators and perjurers, were denied probation by Judge A. B. McKenzie this afternoon. They were sentenced to from one to 14 years in San Quentin prison for conspiring to give false testimony to besmirch a woman's reputation and secure a divorce for her husband. Gus Christos was denied probation and will be sentenced Monday at the same time that James Mannis learns his fate.

UNKNOWN MAN GIVEN BURIAL

The remains of an unidentified man found in the bay at Selby on Thursday, were interred at Martinez yesterday, according to Coroner C. F. Donnelly.

Donnelly is making an investigation into the case before holding an inquest, the date for which has not yet been set.

The body was found lying in a slag dump where, judging from the decomposition of the flesh, it had laid for some time.

The only hope of identifying the man is by the teeth, it is believed, as the body has laid in the water so long, facial identification is impossible. An impression of the mouth was taken yesterday morning.

Work to be started this winter by Southern California Edison company on Shaver Lake tunnel and conduit line, connecting Huntington Lake with Blair ranch near here.

SCHOOL BOYS GET $50,000 LOOT IN VACATION RAIDS

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The "thrill" crimes grow more numerous every day. Today's contribution to the list is that of two fourteen-year-old New York school boys, Robert Hayck and Daniel Olivero, who have been taken into custody.

During a six weeks' vacation the two boys are alleged to have robbed over forty Long Island residences, looting them of articles valued at approximately $50,000 and ranging from golf balls to pearl necklaces.

Who Will Receive Reward In Schwartz Case Is Puzzle

OAKLAND, Aug. 14.—In marked contrast to her attitude and actions at the trial of the victim of her husband's fiendish murder when she laughed and joked with the officers, all the time insisting that the body of Barbe in the Walnut Creek morgue was that of her husband, Alice E. Schwartz wept and sobbed uncontrollably in the Oakland morgue Thursday when she stood beside the bier of her husband who had committed suicide after murdering an innocent, unsuspecting man.

It was as much Mrs. Schwartz, lack of emotion as any other one thing that stirred Contra Costa officials to action in investigating what proved to be a diabolical murder and the woman's actions of Thursday justified their belief that no wife could stand so calmly and unconcerned by and view the body of the father of her children as did

Mrs. Charles Henry Schwartz. Although Sheriff Veale is not at all concerned, the question has arisen as to who is entitled to the reward which the Sheriff offered out of his own pocket in the Schwartz case.

N. B. Edmunds, a deputy sheriff of Alameda county, has made formal written demand on Veale for the money but Inspector Sternitzky of the Oakland police department "beat him to it" by suggesting to Veale that the coin be handed over less than an hour after the Sheriff had arrived in Oakland following Schwartz' suicide. The official circular provides for payment of the reward for "the arrest and delivery of Schwartz' Sheriff Veale believes that such phraseology eliminates Edmunds who delivered nothing to him.

Meanwhile Sheriff Veale had drawn his check for $100, the name of the payee to be written in, when determined upon.

FACE IS CUT WHEN MACHINE STRIKES POLE

Driver Tries to Dodge Another Car and Hangs Auto On Pole

Lacerations about the face, caused by flying glass from a broken windshield were sustained by T. Casobin, 1542 Portrero avenue, last night, when the machine in which he was riding with Tony Rock, 142 N. 14th street, struck an electric light pole.

The accident resulted from the efforts of Rock, who was driving the auto, to avoid a collision with another machine at the corner of Tenth street and Bissell avenue. In pulling over to the curb, the car crashed into the pole, the glass cutting Casobin about the face, and the crash breaking the front of the car.

The other car did not stop, and in the excitement, neither occupant of the damaged automobile noticed the license number.

Casobin was taken to the Cottage hospital, where first aid was administered. The injuries are not believed to be serious.

WHY WE ARE SO BUSY

The world has a vast contempt for American enterprise because it is not coupled with selfishness. We are so busy earning the best living enjoyed by the people of any country on earth that we do not give very much time or thought to the subject of living and enjoying our many good things.

But the same ease of life which we pass up constitutes a great danger for it is a lure to the vicious and greedy of the whole world. Our shores are continually besieged by persons who want to come and take from us what we hold so lightly.

It is a mighty altruistic policy to regard these immigrants as strivers for a worthy object and to sympathize with their aspirations. But when self-protection is considered, and the down-right necessity of turning back the alien hordes is seen, there is a slight tinge of dismay in our complacency.

For many years of struggle to overcome the wilderness, America welcomed the immigrant and naturally, because he was in general, the kind of a self-respecting person we knew and liked. He was, in short, exactly the same kind of folks we are. But a time came when a disagreeable sort of immigrant came, one who never could look upon the new world as a place to conquer natural forces and hew out a home for himself and his descendants. This new type of immigrant brought the hatreds of his own world and sought to exploit not the untouched resources of a new continent, but the silly and self-satisfied men and women who had done the pioneering. He was—and is—a parasitic immigrant.

We have enacted a law against him, or rather a law limiting his numbers to a theoretical quantity we fat-headedly hope will be assimilable in our great body politic. This law was pressed to a successful conclusion by a public demand that had been shaped and directed by two or three very patriotic organizations. It was opposed by the still better organized and sheep-like bodies of alien citizens. These naturalized persons quite understandably, did not want the bars raised against their kinfolk and how close they came to keeping the bars down, few will ever know.

But the power of the hyphenate was not exhausted by that losing struggle. It is still apparent in the legislation which has followed the enactment of the alien quota law. A glance at the federal budget, which is now being studied, will show conclusively that the alien-citizen still swings a lot of weight in this brave and glorious republic.

Whereas the appropriations for the fighting of every other variety of unlawful thing have been increased, that to be devoted to sweeping back the flood of bootlegged foreigners has been cut to the quick. We may have extra money with which to pay prohibition officers, customs collectors, narcotic inspectors, but we will not be all square with ourselves until we build up an adequate immigration service on the basis of that splendid but pitifully small crew who are now giving their lives to this labor.

Our would-be radicals have found the country at large strangely contested, and are greatly disturbed thereat.

It must be pretty nearly time for the Prince of Wales to return home for the purpose of planning another trip.

Time was when people tried to show that their ancestors came over in the Mayflower. Now the opposition is trying to show that the ancestors came over with the circus.

Up to this time none of the New York newspapers have blamed the unusually hot summer on the Volstead act or the Tennessee antevolution law—but the summer is still young.

Who remembers the old fashioned politician who considered it a privilege to be permitted to carry a torch in the parade on the Saturday night before election?

A fine classic theater thousands of years old has been dug up in Asia Minor. Wonder if it had a smoking room for women? Is a woman who is elected to congress a statesman or a stateswoman?

"Do not let us speak about American philanthropy any more," says a Belgian newspaper. There are some Americans who will cordially sympathize with this sentiment, as applied to Europe generally.

A person who just drifts with the tide may not be an altogether admirable and inspiring character but he's rather comfortable to have around.

So they want "China for the Chinese." Well what's the matter with that?—Philadelphia Bulletin.

It is noticeable that the republicans, not the democrats, are making the more definite plans for 1928.—Boston Herald.

Poke Bonnets of a Hundred Years Ago Are Modified to Serve as Models for Today.

THE modified poke is undoubtedly one of the most becoming and sensible things that the milliner has to offer. For several years this has been a shape very generally employed in the making of little girls' hats. The width of brim comes at the front where it is needed to shield the eyes and is absent at the back where it interferes with the back of one's chair. It is the ideal shape for motor or travel wear, even for adults.

Poke shape of purple velvet with brim of net in some shade, bound with the velvet.

But mind you this is the modified poke—not the poke that came into fashion very early in the last century and remained, off and on, the style for more than a generation. These were known as coal-skuttle bonnets, a name more suggestive than that in this day of steam heat and gas stoves. A German writer has this to say about them: "The funnel-shaped opening of this head-covering grew horizontally longer and longer until it completely concealed the face, which could be caught sight of only far back between the gigantic blinkers, the ladies of the time being referred to in comic papers as the 'invisible ones.'"

It is these exaggerated pokes that have given inspiration for some very picturesque bonnets that one sees here and there this summer and that were especially noteworthy at the races in France this summer. Once they were considered very discreet and appropriate for young women because they offered an obstacle in the way of flirtations, in the days when one of the very few places that a young woman could flirt was at church. Sidelong glances might be cast in vain in these coal-skuttle affairs.

One of the most charming of the present-day pokes lacks any such obstacle, for the wide front brim is quite transparent. It is made of net while the crown and brim binding are of purple velvet. A gorgeous purple pansy is placed over the right ear.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

THE WAY SHE DOES HER HAIR

THE story goes that quite recently a popular American actress was rehearsing a play, and everything was going along as well as could be expected until the subject of her dress for the part was discussed. She was willing to have the matter of her frock settled for but she insisted on the way she should do her hair. The director, or whoever was discussing the matter with her, assured her that she would ruin the play if she wore her hair as she suggested. And so important did the matter seem that when this actress flatly refused to do her hair as suggested she was retired from the part in favor of another actress who had less definite ideas in hair-dressing.

Hair arrangement has always played an important part, but perhaps never a more important part than it does at the present time. Whether long or short, the mode of arrangement is simple. There are no puffs and pads to give an artificial shape to the head and very few ornaments are worn. But one of the first things we observe when a woman takes off her hat is how she does her hair. We seem to be able to judge better of her temperament and her character, to place her better if we can see how she does her hair.

Men seem to be almost as observing of the way girls do their hair as they are of how they dress their feet and ankles. In fact quite often the only thing a young man can remember about a girl he has met is the way she does her hair and the appearance of her shoes and stockings.

The woman or girl who finds herself not able to afford any new frocks or hats should remember this. She may be able to make the old things do if she takes good care of them and can somehow manage to get neat footwear—but she must take extra pains with her hair.

It originated in America, in the Western States, it is derived either from "high flitting," or from the Dutch "verlooten" meaning flying. Authorities do not agree which is the proper derivation.

SYNOPSIS

Jim Fowler has induced Bob Wilson to remain in Crater City in the employ of the railroad. The two meet a one-handed tramp, who attempts to stab Bob with his steel spike, for exposing him as a thief, but Wilson is too quick for him. At the railroad station Bob sees a handbill bearing his own photograph and the offer of a reward for information concerning him. As he tears it down he sees Spike, the tramp, leering at him through a window.

Jim, pausing as he rounded the platform corner, looked at his excited friend in curious surprise; then, catching sight of Spike, he shrugged and came forward again.

"Oh, wouldn't blame you if you did choke him, Bob," he sympathized, "but it's too hot to get excited at his like. Besides, he's got plenty coming to him. The men inside say they've got the goods on him for many things—breaking box car seals, among other things. He'll get fifteen years if he gets a day. Come, let's go home."

Sick at heart for reasons he could not confide, his outlook clouded with morbid speculation as to how much Spike had seen of the handbill, or knew, Bob stumbled away in silence beside Jim.

After him, a gleeful shout from the window—"I've got your number, 'bo!" After him, too, a derisive, mocking, knowing laugh that was to haunt and disturb Bob on many a day when otherwise surety and peace would have been his.

CHAPTER V

Dust from the measured footsteps of five trudging years sifted over sleepy Crater City, every season adding a square to the quilt of time that tucked the little town more and more snugly each twelvemonth in the isolated importance of its remote hill-country bed. Though professionally aiding and abetting the ceaseless pulsation of traffic blood through the railroad artery on which it was a parasite, it was virtually stagnant itself. For every baby born, someone died or left town; for every restless journeyman member of the Big Four Brotherhoods who rolled up his store of the world's good in greasy overalls and fared on, some half-baked recruit put in an intimidated first day under Bolts Morran.

And yet, excitement was endemic in Crater City like measles in an orphan asylum or barber's itch in Italy; a public trait it had in common with other central spheres of brawny industrial activities such as colliery villages, steel-mill towns and fishing hamlets. There was always the Damoclean threat of those Sierra twins of perversity, Granite Gorge and the Old Witch, to raise this latent infection into an epidemic. Indeed, the town had known many a night's travail when blizzard or freshet were amuck in the mountains. Then its womenfolk waited and wept at the despatcher's bulletin board—like their storied sisters on beach and quay when waves from rescuers brave the gasp mouth below.

As headquarters of the most dangerous division of transcontinental railroading Crater City was in effect, therefore, somewhat of a vermillion appendix on the country's steel intestines in which every foreign body that stopped set up community inflammation; and aside from the sporadic ragings of strange dramatic pain in their workaday lives, the good citizenry were subjected to acute epidemics of less tragic, if not less interesting, excitement. There was, for instance, the thrilling advent into the town's ken of the handsome, mysterious hobo, Bob Wilson, on that storm-tossed night already a half decade gone. And the draped day when a crepe-hemmed Special bearing a dead President's body to Washington rolled mournfully through. Days of other sorts, too; when Bolts Morran, hilariously befooled over the arrival of a junior Bolt, broke open a cage door in the menagerie car of a circus train in the Yard and allowed a tiger to escape into the streets; when the town Magdalene crept timidly and obscurely into church, and upon being singled out and patronizingly welcomed in an impromptu lost sheep text by the minister spat at him and departed in a huff; when Morran's Yard gang won their third successive blue ribbon for having the best kept Division on the Road; when the Paymaster's car was robbed; when the Widow O'Leary had her goitre removed; when Bob Wilson thumped the Yard bully who sneeringly called him a tramp.

But all these manifestations were mild compared with the sudden onslaught of brush cramp that, without a forewarning symptom, kinked Crater City's inwards one feverish summer morning when a certain tawny-colored head flamed and sizzled through the dry masculine hearts of the town like a virginal comet in a heap of dead woods.

Bob Wilson, on his way downtown to breakfast early that morning, found himself conscious of an unwonted something in the air. Not that many visible evidences suggested this; although, true enough, there seemed to be a sabbatical repression in the dusty flow of Main Street, while Feeney's Pool Emporium was barren of its usual handful of glib-handed idlers and the several groups of gossiping off-duty men whom Bob passed were perky and animated quite beyond their accustomed stolidity. Bob wondered mildly, almost subconsciously, at these signs; but the most acute and significant testimony emanated from a premonitory tingling in his chest—a sort of pleasant uneasiness.

Bob was on call to take out a local freight at seven-thirty. It was already five minutes past seven when he elbowed briskly into the Ned Larvey lunchroom in the Depot, so he did not have any too much time in which to down his breakfast and glance through the morning paper. His general sensibility to an atmosphere of expectation and surprise was heightened at sight of the extraordinary number of trainmen in the place, considering the time of day. Men coming off the night runs lingered, bright-eyed and sleepless; day crews ate unhurried by the inexorable tale of the clock. Bramley, the English exhibitor manager of Crater City's branch of the famous Larvey chain of Transrockian Railroad restaurants and lunchrooms, was already on the job—this, in itself, a phenomenon of rare note.

Bob nodded in his genially silent way to acquaintances, saw with chagrin that his favorite table was occupied, then found himself an untenanted table in a secluded corner. Here he sat down in hasty peace, confident of the service of Minnie, the fat waitress, whose consistent and especial stewardly attentions he made sure of by generous tip.

"What the deuce is up?" he speculated without much real curiosity, looking around as he propped against the sugar bowl with practiced deftness his copy of the Salt Lake City morning newspaper, a batch of which were dropped off in Crater City at five a. m. each day. His eyes discovered no answer to his question, and a moment later the newspaper headlines had taken his whole attention and interest far out of the influence of his immediate surroundings. So he did not realize that it was fully ten minutes before there came at his elbow a shy voice.

"What will you have, sir, please?" Bob's eyes were wistfully scanning the society column, which, with the financial pages, he searched each morning.

Inventor of Copper-Glass Seal Wins Technical Progress Medal

William G. Housekeeper, to Whom the City of Philadelphia Has Awarded John Scott Medal

The city of Philadelphia has awarded the large steel medal which is known as the John Scott medal to William G. Housekeeper of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, New York, for his contribution to technical progress. The award carries with it a premium of $1,000 and is made by the City of Philadelphia from the proceeds of a fund left more than one hundred years ago by John Scott of Edinburgh, Scotland.

The achievement for which the medal was awarded to Housekeeper is the development of a practical method for making an air-tight joint between copper and glass. Such a seal has been sought ever since the invention of the electric lamp, more than a generation ago required that an electric current be carried into the inside of an exhausted glass bulb.

It has been known for a long time that these two substances when heated and pressed together will adhere when extensively used for lead-in wires. Its cost, however, is prohibitive where large amounts must be used. Housekeeper's invention makes it entirely practicable to use copper instead of platinum thus making settlement, it is said that no United States bank or loan company will be permitted to make loans to her.

Debt Failure Arouses Plan For Refusing Future Loans

That is declared to be the real significance of the suspension of the American Belgium debt parity today and the hurried trip of Secretary Mellon and Senator Smoot of Utah to the American commission to consult with President Coolidge at Plymouth, Vermont.

A high treasury official declared, however, that this should not be accepted as a "deadlock," but that both sides were very hopeful of an agreement.

During the interim the Belgians will continue cable correspondence with their government at Brussels, and it is expected that when the negotiations are resumed next Tuesday an agreement will be reached.

The Belgian commissioners, after consulting with their government yesterday and last night, succeeded in convincing the American commission. It is understood that the terms proposed by it were "beyond Belgium's capacity to pay" without seriously endangering the financial and economic standing of the country.

NO MORE CONCESSIONS

The American commission did not feel at liberty to make any material departure from the British settlement plan without first obtaining President Coolidge's views, and consequently both sides were agreeable to an adjournment until next week.

Following the conference the technical experts of the two commissions went into session. They were armed with a batch of papers, documents and figures. It was reported that they had been given a tentative draft of a settlement plan and ordered to figure the total costs, yearly payments and the like.

COOLIDGE APPROVAL

The session of the experts confirmed the impression that a final settlement probably would be speedily reached when the commission met again, if the terms are acceptable both to President Coolidge and the Brussels government.

Both Mellon and Smoot said they still discuss with the President every detail of the conference, taking along all financial data brought over by the Belgian negotiators.

HAVE NEW BASIS

The trip of himself and Smoot to the President, Mellon intimated, does not mean that a settlement has been reached but rather that the two commissions have at last arrived at a tentative working basis upon which a compromise settlement can probably be reached.

At the request of the Belgians the sessions will not be resumed until Tuesday afternoon.

The company is directed to purchase immediately 30 new street cars and place them in operation and to place 20 new cars in service each year until the entire 100 ordered by the commission are in service. These cars are of a type that may be coupled into trains of two cars, and will cost from $12,000 to $15,000 each.

FOR RICHMOND

Following is the system of re-routing on the Richmond line: Loop from Washington street and San Pablo avenue, south on Washington street to Eighth, east on Eighth to Broadway, north on Broadway to San Pablo avenue and northwesterly along San Pablo avenue.

Ellis Hill Is Mass of Flames

Ellis Hill, out at the foot of Second street, near Cutting boulevard, was a mass of flames yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock.

A grass fire, believed to have been caused from a carelessly discarded lighted cigarette, broke out at that time. The Richmond Fire department detailed Engine company No. 4, to the hill.

It was an hour and fifteen minutes before the fire could be put out. No damage, outside the loss of the hay on the hill, resulted.

San Pablo Bridge Will Be Discussed By County Fathers

When the plans for a new bridge across San Pablo creek are laid before the County supervisors in Martinez Monday, Richmond Chamber of Commerce will be represented at the session.

Supervisor Zeb Knott has proposed a plan whereby the county will build a new bridge leading directly into Stockton street, leading into Kearney street.

Will Bury Barbe At Presidio Cemetery

MARTINEZ, Aug. 14.—Although funeral plans had not been completed it is probable that the remains of Gilbert W. Barbe, itinerant preacher, world war veteran and "soldier of fortune" will be interred in the military cemetery at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Dr. J. H. Barbe, father of the journeyman man wired Sheriff Veale Friday asking that his son be buried in the American Legion plot in Martinez, but as there is no such portion of the cemetery here, the Sheriff District Attorney and commander of the Legion Post in Martinez, laid plans to ask permission of the authorities for burial with military honors at the Presidio.

Crossing Guardian At 23 Street Was Kin of President

For six years F. M. Baker, 1406 Bissell avenue, Richmond, has been guiding motorists to safety over the Southern Pacific tracks at Twenty-third street, but few have been aware that Baker was closely related to former President Warren Harding.

Baker was Harding's second cousin. His father, M. S. Baker, was a first cousin, while Baker's uncle married President Harding's wife's sister, Abbie Dickerson.

Baker last saw Harding when Baker was 13 years of age.

'Curfew Shall Not Ring'—Too Costly

WAUKEGAN, (Ill.), Aug. 14.—The curfew did not blow in Waukegan tonight. The reason? Economy. Experts estimated that the nocturnal whistle on the city's water works would entail an expenditure of $15 to have its voice smoothed out. "It's not worth it," the council agreed. So the whistle was dismantled and Waukegan has to set their alarm clocks when they want to go to bed at 9 o'clock sharp.

Mae Murray In Ibanez Drama

Mae Murray has done it again.
She has scored another real triumph in "Circe the Enchantress," her new Metro-Goldwyn starring picture, which opened at the Richmond Theatre yesterday.

"Circe the Enchantress" was written especially for Miss Murray by Vicente Blasco Ibanez, author of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" and other famous novels, and it supplies her with one of the best stories in which she has ever appeared.

Ibanez has based the story on the mythical goddess, Circe. This episode of the picture has been transferred to the screen in a very colorful way and is an interesting novelty as well as furnishing a foundation for the real story that follows.

The supporting cast for "Circe the Enchantress" includes James Kirkwood, William Haines, Charles Gerard, Gene Cameron, Thomas Ricketts and Lillian Langdon. The photoplay was made by Tiffany production of which Mr. Leonard is director general and M. H. Hoffman is general manager.

Other features on the same program include the sixth thrilling chapter of "Days of '49" featuring Neva Gerber and Edmund Cobb;
"Felix in Hollywood" a Felix, the cat, comedy.

SAN PABLO GRAMMAR SCHOOL

Are You Tired, Achy And All Run Down?

This Richmond Resident Tells You
How to Get Well.

Tired all the time?
Lame, stiff and achy?
Tortured with nagging backache?
Knife-like twinges when you stoop or lift?

Miserable with headaches, dizzy spells and bladder irregularities?
All are signs of kidney sickness!

Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys.

Here's Richmond testimony:
Mrs. Sarah J. Kinney, 915 Seventh St., says: "The least cold I took always settled on my kidneys and I had backache that made me miserable. I became run down and often had to neglect my housework. My kidneys acted irregularly and annoyed me. Doan's Pills, however, which I procured at Lang's Drug Store soon relieved me of these attacks and strengthened my back."

Mrs. Kinney is only one of many Richmond people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S PILLS, the same that Mrs. Kinney had—the remedy backed by home testimony, 50 cents at all dealers.

Hero of The Films

RIN-TIN-TIN
in "TRACKED IN THE SNOW COUNTRY"
A WARNER PICTURE

Famed Dog In Film Thriller

Rin-Tin-Tin, the German shepherd dog which Warner Bros. have been presenting in feature photoplays of late, does some remarkable stunts in "Tracked in the Snow Country," which began a two days engagement at the California theatre yesterday.

A number of terrific battles between the dog and the villain of the piece are literally hair-raising and Rin-Tin-Tin's last struggle with the villain, in which he frustrates his repeated attempts to escape from the broken ice he had hoped to cross safely, forcing him deep into an icy death, is one of the most exciting things which has been presented in pictures in a long time.

Other features on the same program include "Boys Will Be Boys" an "Our Gang" comedy; International News; Larry Canelo at the organ.

Americanization Work Scheduled

Americanization work in the city of Richmond will go forward on a large scale this fall and winter, according to preparations now being made by Mrs. Emily Axtell, director of the work here.

LARGE NUMBERS
Material increase in the number of enrollments of aliens is to be noted this year over last term. The foreign born prospective citizens seem to be taking an active interest in the work, according to Mrs. Axtell, and a great deal is expected to be accomplished in the next few months.

The program for the day school in English for the foreigners is as follows:

Monday and Wednesday.
116 Castro avenue, 9:00-9:20; 101
Tewksbury, 9:30-9:50; Standard avenue school, 10:00-12:00; Mexican 2:10-4:00.

Tuesday and Thursday.

Evening classes will be as follows:

Psychologist To Give Lectures

evening and continuing until next Sunday evening.

such questions as a Court of Dom-

Birth Control, will be accompanied by Mrs. Lucie H. Goodrum, Philadelphia metaphysician and ortho-

Biblical Episode Is Lead for Noted Film

There's plenty of zip and speed in "The Ten Commandments" which is to be shown for the first time at popular prices on next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 17, 18 and 19 at the California theatre.
Starting with the Biblical episode,
we have the race of Pharaoh's charioteers across the desert in their pursuit of the escaping Israelites.
Going so far as to follow them between the open walls of water where the Red Sea has opened, they are almost on top them, when the waters close, and make a watery grave.
Then skipping to the modern, just at the close of the picture, we see the commandment-breaking son in his attempt to escape the police by a dash to Mexico in an open power-launch.

MOWING THE LAWN IS REAL FUN NOW FOR THESE NEW JERSEY BOYS WHO USE THEIR OWN INVENTION

Victor and Daniel Dorn of R. N. J. just hated the job of mowing the lawn. So they put their heads together and rigged up the unusual vehicle pictured above. Now when their parents tell them that the grass ought to be cut they merely get out this machine and go for a ride around the lawn.

TEAMS READY FOR DECIDING GAME

Each Contesting Club To Be Allowed Two Ringers

DECISION IS REACHED TO PLAY ONE FINAL GAME INSTEAD OF THREE-GAME SERIES TO SETTLE ARGUMENTS OVER WHO IS OWNER OF CUP

Final details for the game scheduled to be played between the Mercantile Trust company nine and the Richards Radios for the championship of the Richmond City Twilight League next Friday, August 21, were worked out at a meeting of the managers and "Doc" Seawright yesterday.

The contest will take place at the First street ball park and upon its outcome will be determined the possessor of the handsome Draper and Maynard silver cup. The Bankers and Radios finished the season in a deadlock for first place, each club having won eight games and lost 2.

ONLY ONE CONTEST

Although it at first was planned to play a three-game series for the championship, the managers of the two teams finally decided upon a single contest.

Because of a possible absence of regular players, each club will be permitted to use two outside men in the final battle. This will not include battery men, however.

SEEK UMPIRES

Due to the keen rivalry between the two teams, "Doc" Seawright is making arrangements to secure an outside umpire to handle the indicator during the contest. In the event that no out-of-town arbiter is lined up, attempts may be made to secure the services of Gene Wright, fireman pitcher, who umpired several league games in a satisfactory manner during the past season.

"Red" McCarron, former San Francisco Seal recruit, is expected to occupy the mound for the Bankers, with Manager Dick Austin behind the log.

BABST TO TWIRL

Walter "Babst," who turned in a number of pretty pitching exhibitions in the final stages of the season, will in all probability be sent to the hilltop in an effort to subdue the Mercantile outfit. Van Arsdale will receive his slants.

Tanney Better Than Wills In Champ's Mind

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—"I'll knock out Wills in three rounds I'll stop Tanney in six rounds," Jack Dempsey was the author of this statement, made public today through a letter he wrote "Senator Bill" Lyons, an intimate friend, now in New York. It was the first time the heavyweight champion had voiced an opinion on the ability of his two challengers and, according to Lyons, it was given without solicitation.

Dempsey thus intimated that Wills would prove the easier victim, largely, it is supposed, because Tanney is the faster and younger man. The champion never has been at his best against fast men.

Channel Swim Trial Tuesday

BOULOGNE, France, Aug. 14.—In preparation for her attempt to swim the English channel, Gertrude Ederle has resumed the easy system of training she favors. She spent yesterday on the Gris-Nez beach in front of the hotel, where she indulged in a sun bath. Afterwards she was massaged by an expert attached to her camp.

Lillian Harrison, the Argentine girl, is still taking things easily. She showed little signs yesterday of her ordeal of last Monday, when on her fourth effort to cross the channel she became exhausted and was nearly drowned at a point about eight miles off Dover Castle. When she will take the water for her fifth trial has not yet been decided.

The experts say that if the warm spell continues it will bring the channel water up to an ideal swimming temperature by next Tuesday when Miss Ederle probably will start for England.

Modern Woodmen Want More Blood

Once more the Modern Woodmen's ball club will fare them forth on next Sunday to add one more scalp to their already long string. This time the expected victim is the Y. M. I. No. 6, of Oakland. The game will be played at San Pablo park, Oakland, beginning at 3:30 p. m. o'clock.

Twelve times have the Woodmen hid themselves to the diamond to chop, chop, chop, their way to victory, and eight times have they succeeded.

Both the Y. M. I. and the Woodmen have played the same team this season and both have won by the same approximate majority. Therefore, looking at the coming encounter from all angles, a real game might be anticipated.

BACK TO THE HORSE IS CRY OF THE ELITE OF FRANCE

PARIS, Aug. 14.—Horse-drawn taxis have increased in number considerably in Paris recently. These antiquated vehicles had become very scarce and were to be seen usually only on Sundays at the gates of the Bois de Boulogne. Boulogne, Parisians who wanted to have the impression of living again in the good old days used to engage them and ride slowly along the avenue.

Richmond Keys Are Victorious

Don O'Loan had his good right paw in excellent order yesterday when Tex Brown sent his Keys in against the second team of the Key System Transit company, therefore said second team didn't get a run.

Don's supporting cast showing their batting eye to the wide, wide world and cracked out around sixty hits, totaling 43 runs, 43 to 0, some score. When Tex Brown himself hits out seven safe hits, there is something radically wrong and there certainly was yesterday. Nothing could stop the Keys once they got started and a flock of errors didn't help matters any.

Manager McLaughlin, of the second string of alleged ball players showed some disgust after the game. He was in hopes (privately) that his men would take a little of the wind out of the first team's sails, but the gale is now blowing harder than ever.

The massacre took place at First street at 11 o'clock and thereafter yesterday morning.

Steve Crothers Is Declared Champion

WILMINGTON, Dela., Aug. 14.—Steve Crothers, Pennsylvania State tramping champion, was declared last night by officials of the York-Lynn gun club to have broken the world's amateur record yesterday for consecutive targets at 16 yards.

Crothers, in scoring 496 out of 500 broke 486 straight targets. The world's record 414 straight targets was held by M. Carroll of Kansas City.

After winning the 500 target event, Crothers shot an additional 100 straight targets, scoring a grand total of 596 out of 600.

CHICK EVANS IS SHOWING BAD TRAITS

OAKMONT, Pa., Aug. 14.—Charles (Chick) Evans, Jr., of Chicago, only man to win the national open and amateur golf titles in one year, must make a remarkable recovery from his present form if he is to be a factor in the 1925 amateur event at the Oakmont Country Club, August 31 to September 5.

Evans obtained both championships in 1916 and held them for three years as there were no tournaments in 1917 and 1918 because of the war.

Crowded from the top by Francis Outmet in the third round of the 1919 play, he regained the crown a year later and at the same time had sweet revenge, for Outmet was his victim and the score very one-sided, 7 and 6. For five years he occupied the place in golf that Bobby Jones does today.

Of late he has been unable to maintain a championship stride. Only this year he failed to qualify in the mid-western district for the national open and last year in the amateur Ruddy Knepper turned him back in the first round by the overwhelming margin of 9 and 7.

Evans was born in Indianapolis in 1890 and learned golf as a caddy after moving to Chicago when a small boy. He came into prominence in 1910 when he won the Western open championship at the Beverly Golf Club, Chicago. He captured the Western amateur title eight times within the period of 1909 and 1923.

In 1914 he made his second invasion of Europe—the first time he went on a cattle boat—and in France seeking honors he fell down stairs before his second round match.

Then he returned to America to suffer a sprained ankle on the eve

Paluso to Sign For Cadena Bout

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—Leo P. Flynn, manager of Lou Paluso arrived in town this morning from Los Angeles and will confer with Promoter Tommy Simpson sometime tomorrow regarding a match with Ad Cadena. Since Paluso decisively whipped Frankie Farren and Ace Huddins the kid's services are much in demand but the local promoters says he has the inside track and expects Flynn to sign articles today. Cadena has returned from the south and has started training for any matches that may develop.

SHADE PLANS ADVANCE

Having considered the source of the opposition to the proposed Shade-Duffy match the Mission club promoters of San Francisco are going ahead with their plans to match the rival welterweights. With Flynn in town and Duffy in a receptive mood the match may be closed today. Claiming that it would be so one-sided that the odds would be six to one the "expert" who boosted the Walker-Cooper farce so much and helped make the people believe that Cooper had a swell chance, declares that the fans would not attend a Shade-Duffy bout in paying numbers. The Four Horsemen of Steiner street promoted the Walker-Cooper half-round joke, while the Mission club is behind the Shade-Duffy affair, which apparently makes plenty of difference.

BUILDERS CONFER

E. H. Higgins presided at the weekly meeting of the Richmond Builders' Exchange, held last night in the exchange hall at Fourteenth street. Regular routine business occupied the greater part of the session.

of the national open, but hobbling around he missed a putt by two inches to lose the title. Walter Hagen first came to notice by winning that year.

In the 1923 amateur Evans tied Jones for the medal with 149 but was defeated by Willie Hunter in the first round.

FRENCH AND SPANISH DRIVE RIFFIANS BACK INTO HILLS

FEZ, French Morocco, Aug. 14.—A French column has advanced into the Sarsar mountain range, after having had the territory under bombardment. The advance was carried on from Amezou, in the region of Kasar-El Khir of the Loukkos river where the junction of the western wings of the French and Spanish forces was effected several days ago. The dissident tribesmen are fleeing with their flocks, harried by the French.

Planning Corps To Consider East Shore Highway Proposition

Richmond's planning commission will in the near future, place the proposal made here this week for a thorough highway along the waterfront of Richmond, Emeryville, Berkeley and Oakland, before Harold Bartholomew, regional planning engineer of St. Louis, now in San Francisco.

Bartholomew has been engaged by F. Dohrmann, Jr., of San Francisco, president of the Regional Plan association, to make a survey of the physical, economic, industrial, social and living conditions of the nine counties of the bay region. A recommendation for any definite project probably will be introduced by the engineer.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 14.—Any action which the New York boxing commission might take to untangle the heavyweight championship situation and encourage a match between Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills, will be completely ignored by the titleholder.

The champion announced today that he was "sitting in the driver's seat" and will personally dictate details of the next title match.

He declared positively he would fight Harry Wills, that he would arrange his own terms, and ignore absolutely both the New York boxing commission and Jack Kearns, his legal manager and ex-partner.

"I don't care what the New York boxing commission has done or is going to do," declared Dempsey. "They don't mean a thing to me and after the way they have treated me, I'm through with them."

WANTS WILLS FIGHT.
"I'm going to fight Harry Wills, remember that; and I'm going to arrange the match myself—write that down also."

"Furthermore, I will have plenty to say about the terms."

The champion literally chuckled at the scramble of Kearns, the boxing commission and promoters over the highly press-agented Wills bout.

"They aren't kidding me," he continued. "All I have to do is to sit tight and wait for one of these promoters to raise a million dollars and put it in the bank for me."

"As for Doc Kearns, I'm 21 and can make my own contracts. I never saw the agreement that Doc had me sign when I was a youngster. All I recall is that I gave him my word of honor that he would get 33 1-3 per cent of my ring earnings."

"Now, if Doc behaves himself, he will get his cut on the Wills fight; and if he doesn't, I may get sore enough to contest the agreement in court."

CONTRACT ILLEGAL.
"My lawyers tell me that a contract such as Kearns holds is not legal—it's not equitable, because I haven't got a copy of it myself, and Doc has refused to let me look at it."

"If Kearns signs me for a Wills match, it won't mean anything. If I like the terms I may go through with them. If not, I'll ignore the agreement."

Dempsey said he was "not particular" about where the fight will be staged. He made it clear, however, we would not appear in a New York ring.

"The Wills fight will draw just as much money in the middle west or even on the Pacific coast, as it will in the east," he continued.

"I'm not worrying about where the match will be held; and I'm not worried about the criticism in some quarters on a mixed bout."

"As a matter of fact, I have confidence in Floyd Fitzsimmons, and have good reason to believe he has the necessary financial backing to put this match over."

BOOZE, THEN JAIL

MARTINEZ, Aug. 14.—Charged with the illegal possession of intoxicating liquor, Tony Rodriguez was brought to the county jail from Rodeo Thursday night by M. E. Groom. He was released on $500 cash bail.

FOE OF 20th CENTURY HUSTLE MAKES IDLING HIS TRADE THOUGH HE IS ALWAYS BUSY IN HIS WORKSHOP

"Take your time and be cool," says John Lee Baldwin of Babylon, Long Island. Baldwin, 50 years old, is a professional idler, in fact makes idling his trade his life work. Yet he is always busy doing something with his head or his hands. He has a workshop but "never worked and never will." Everything he does is for pastime only. He doesn't have to labor because he has enough to support his wife and two sons. He says he will give a brand-new ten-dollar bill to any one who gets more out of life than he does. The photograph shows the genial philosopher "at work" on duck and snipe models.

King's Heralds Will Meet Today

The King's Heralds will hold their regular August monthly meeting this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Wesley Church parlors.

Heralds who have money in their "Thank Offering" cards have been asked to bring it to the session. Any who have paper dolls to send to the missionaries are also asked to bring them in.

All Heralds were requested to be at the meeting without fail as it is to be an important one. Last Friday the Heralds held another all-day meeting to complete the work on the postal cards and scrap books.

Those present at the last meeting were: Frances Antonio, Catherine Sprau, Alma Yeater, Ruth Yeater, Annetta Wilson, Buelah McKoy, Bertie McKoy, Sarah Waite, Melvin Price, Lorraine Long, Gertrude Wallice, Anna Bengtson, Evelyn Yeaton, Rose Stanley, Dorothy Millevich, Bernice Sanders and Reba Sanders.

Railroad Commission Gives Standard Refund

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—After an investigation of the case, the state railroad commission yesterday ordered the Sunset Railway company, and the Santa Fe railroad to refund to the Standard Oil company all charges paid in excess of 56 1-2 cents per 100 pounds for the period between July 1, 1922 and March 14, 1923.

The Standard Oil company complained to the commission that the railroad companies had charged excessive rates for the transportation of gasoline in carloads from Sigmund and Taft to Richmond.

One of MacMillan's Airplanes Wrecked

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—With one of its planes temporarily out of commission, the MacMillan Arctic expedition is going ahead with the other two to establish an intermediate base at Flagler Fjord, on Ellesmere Island, about 100 miles from Etah, Greenland, the main base.

The airplane NA-2 was damaged at Etah during a storm yesterday. She was put aboard the steamer Bowdoin to be repaired. The planes NA-1 and NA-3 weathered the storm safely.

REQUIRE PAR ON STOCK OF CORPORATIONS

Supreme Court Declares New Law Unconstitutional In Opinion

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 14.—Capital stock of corporations organized in California must be divided into shares of a like par value, according to an opinion of the State Supreme Court, copies of which were received by Edwin M. Daugherty, State Corporation Commissioner.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL

The opinion, according to Corporation Department attorneys, means that the 1923 amendment to the Civil Code known as Section 290a, is unconstitutional.

SECRETARY UPHELD

The court's opinion, written by Justice Richard and concurred in by the entire court, was given in the case of Del Monte Light and Power Company against Frank C. Jordan, Secretary of State, to compel the latter to receive for filing amended articles of incorporation of that company.

MUST NAME VALUE

The proposed change in the articles would have created preferred stock having a value of $100 per share and common stock without nominal par value. Secretary Jordan refused to accept the articles for filing and mandamus proceedings followed.

CALIFORNIA RULE

The court held that the State constitution requires that capital stock of California corporations can not be organized under the laws of the state having par and no par value stock.

INTEREST KEEN

The opinion has been watched for by corporations, courts and attorneys throughout California.

Tries Suicide When Shame Crushes Spirit

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Julia Gruner, held with Thomas F. Lawrence in a statutory investigation, tried to leap to her death from a window in the office of Health Commissioner Bundeson on the seventh floor of the city hall when taken there for examination at noon today.

"My God, I can't stand it," she ran for the window and had one foot on the sill when two police officers and Lawrence pulled her back.

Mrs. Gruner is a member of the exclusive Glen Echo Golf and Country Club of St. Louis, widow of the late Jack Gruner, internationally prominent sportsman and clubman, and Lawrence is a wealthy St. Louis business man. They were arrested on a raid in a room on the Lake Shore Drive Hotel early today.

Food Prices Going Up In Stockholm

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 14.—Moscow notoriously is the most expensive city in Europe in which to live, but Stockholm is a close second. The director of the great Stockholm restaurant organization, Sara, announces that there will soon be a general rise in prices owing to the increasing of food.

The general increase as compared with a year ago is 10.4 per cent. The price of veal has increased by 3.85 per cent, mutton by 25.25 per cent, beef by 12.62 per cent, pork by 34.98 per cent and the price of herring has virtually doubled. Flour now costs 9.35 per cent more, bread 15.28 per cent and coffee 8.91 per cent more.

Rotarians Hold Lively Meeting

Unusual liveliness marked the meeting of the Richmond Rotary club yesterday. Talented members and invited performers presented the program that made a real "Rotary" day out of the occasion.

Several numbers of exceptional attractiveness were given on the musical program. Arthur Muller, Lud Johnson, Edward Hill and T. H. De Lap, the club quartet, gave selections. A rousing reception was tendered the instrumental quintet, composed of Will Darrell Johnson, Emil Esola, and Ted Weston, and Dennis Shaw.

His usual stunt with variations was performed by James T. Nabett, member of Richmond's Public speaking class. Lud Johnson was chairman of the day.

The speaker of the day was "Bru" Brunner past president of the San Francisco club. His talk was out of the ordinary as Rotary club speeches go, and was received with enthusiasm.

Mt. Shasta Is Getting Hotter

(By Universal Service)

REDDING, Aug. 14.—That the internal heat in Mount Shasta now is greater than usual is said to be shown by the following facts:

1. Forest officials say that the water on the mountain is warmer than ever before.
2. The government thermometers at Baird show a temperature of 1 degrees above normal.
3. Forest rangers report that certain patches of grass that usually remain green all year round are now dried up and dead.

BACK FROM ROSEBUD CITY
Maude Crye, Effie Reynolds and Marilee Reynolds returned yesterday from Santa Rosa, where they visited for a time with Mary Reed, Eileen Reed, and Mary Tubbs. The latter three ladies are all well known here, having been prominent in Pythian circles.

Berkeley Planning to Make Wonder Drive Along the Skyline Boulevard

Condemnation proceedings have been started by the City of Berkeley to gain a right of way for the extension of the Skyline Boulevard across the Tunnel Road, northerly to the city limits at East Euclid avenue.

It is reported that the city of Berkeley will deed the property to Alameda county as soon as it gets legal claim to the land involved in the Skyline extension within the Berkeley city limits.

The proposed extension is expected to create one of the wonder highways of the world, with a sweeping panorama overlooking the San Francisco bay and the Pacific ocean the entire length of the eastbay line.

The highway would follow the course of the ledge trail past the base of Grizzly Peak, the pinnacle where the city of Berkeley now maintains a lookout tower as protection against hill fires.

Proposal has been made that the Skyline Boulevard be extended into Contra Costa county, running along the hills above El Cerrito and Richmond and connecting with the San Pablo Canyon highway. However, no definite action has ever been taken on the proposal.

NOTICE!

All members of of Admiral Dewey Camp, No. 46, Spanish American War Veterans, are to meet today at Wilson & Kratzer's and attend the funeral of Mrs. Ida Mae Hagerton, in a body. The service at 2 p. m. By order of
